

CAMPAIGN PLANS TO BE REVIEWED

Sixty Clergy and Laymen Will Meet at Luncheon Here Tomorrow.

The committee of sixty clergymen of the diocese of Washington, together with the laymen interested in the Episcopal nation-wide campaign, will meet in the New Willard at luncheon at 12 o'clock tomorrow. Alfred Harding, bishop of Washington, will preside, and a short address will be delivered by the Rev. D. Wellington Curran.

This luncheon will mark the formal opening of the campaign in the diocese of Washington in which it is sought to raise the annual sum of $203,000 for three years. This money is to be used in furthering the work of the church, for missions, etc. The greater part of the funds are to be raised on Sunday, December 7. The diocese of Washington comprises the District of Columbia and the four Maryland counties of Prince Georges, Montgomery, Charles and St. Marys.

In the campaign there will be more than 1,000 workers, who are organized in each parish in committees for the "Every Member Canvass."

Tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock in Epiphany Parish Hall there will be held a "team dinner" at which will be present boys and girls between the ages of 15 and 21 from every parish in the diocese. The author of "The American Creed," which won the $1,000 prize, will be toastmaster. This dinner will be under the direction of Mrs. Griffith Johnson.

On Tuesday and Wednesday, the national executive council of the Episcopal Church of the United States will meet at Cathedral Close. Regional mass meetings will be held at several churches Tuesday evening, and a supper will be served the same evening at All Faith Church, Mechanicsville, Md.

Two Suspects Are Jailed For Recent Hold-Ups

Mal. Sylvester Ludley of 255 Knox court southwest, and George Taylor, 6 Capitol court southwest, each 35 years old and colored, were brought back to Washington from Alexandria yesterday and locked up pending an investigation by the police into a number of recent hold-ups.

Headquarters Detectives Kelly, Scrivener, Vermillion, Baur and Sweeney are now conducting the investigation. The two negroes, they allege, are the descriptions of a pair of lawbreakers hitherto sought by the police.

Salute the Ham and—

Think of All the Misguided Dyspeptics Who Refuse the Good Things to Eat for Fear of Indigestion. No Trouble Like That If You Follow Meals With Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Lay a slice of broiled ham on a white plate with a couple of nicely fried eggs and there you have a picture. Salute the autocrat of the breakfast table.

But, you say, I can't eat ham and, they don't agree. This is the sort of prejudice a host of people have against many of the most tempting dishes, people who have just as much trouble with a glass of milk or oatmeal as they do with fried onions. Try eating what you like and follow your meal with a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet to relieve possible gasiness, rumblings, drowsiness, sour risings, heartburn, water brash, and the "stuffy" feeling after eating. These Tablets confer, after eating, ingredients that act with an alkaline effect on the stomach and when it is perfectly normal.

Many physicians prescribe them for indigestion, dyspepsia and other digestive disorders everywhere in the United States and Canada. The druggist recommends them as among the steady staples for which really give relief and are highly appreciated.—Adv.

FLIES TO COLLEGE

Miss Ann Lord recently flew to Chicago from Okmulgee, Okla., to enter the University of Chicago. Born in Mutton Hollow, Mo., Miss Lord never saw a train until she was 16 years of age—when she was awfully long ago—and both the airplane and automobile had been invented for years before she even heard an engine's whistle.

ASSAULT CHARGE AGAINST NEGRO

Louis Randall Goes on Trial Here Tomorrow Morning.

Louis Randall, colored, charged with attempting to assault Louise Simmons, a young colored school teacher, and Miss Saunders, an English woman, and with assaulting Mrs. Bessie Gleason, white, on June 29 last, will be put on trial in Justice Stafford's court tomorrow morning.

Detectives Ed Kelly, Scrivener and Sweeney are credited with capturing Randall. He is alleged to have accosted Miss Simmons, on June 25, at Bowdoin street near Connecticut avenue, and Miss Gleason, in Ray's Woods, Takoma Park. As Miss Saunders has returned to England, the police have dropped this charge against Randall. He will be tried first for attempting to assault Miss Simmons.

Assistant District Attorney Paul R. Cromelin will prosecute the case. Randall will be defended by Attorneys Gustack and Bockett.

According to the District code, a jury has power to render the death penalty in a case where a man is convicted of criminal assault.

WHY MAKE THE ANNUAL STRUGGLE WITH RHEUMATISM?

Nature Gives a Cry for Help That S. S. S. Can Answer With the Right Treatment.

This is the season when the damp, cold, changing weather of winter intensifies the pains and other disagreeable symptoms of Rheumatism.

Rheumatism never comes by accident. It is in the blood and system before a pain is felt.

The symptoms of this disease are almost unnoticed at first, so insidiously do they steal over the body; gradually the little pains and stiffness increase until they develop great inconvenience day by day, and if neglected or improperly treated will become chronic.

Not only is Rheumatism the most painful of all diseases, with its swollen, stiff joints, throbbing muscles and stinging nerves, but it is a formidable and dangerous trouble.

Every day the poison remains in the system the disease gets a firmer hold and the patient is soon left a helpless cripple.

Of course, if this painful disease was on the surface only, you might reasonably expect to get relief by the use of lotions, liniments and other local applications. But the source of the disease is in your blood, the tiny disease germs find lodgment there and multiply by the millions, scattered by means of the blood circulating throughout your entire system.

FEAR DISRUPTION OF SCHOOLS

Lack of Teachers Looms as Possibility Unless Increases in Pay Are Granted.

Unless public school teachers are granted substantial increases in salary the whole educational system in Washington must face disruption through lack of sufficient instructors. This was the fear expressed by public school officials yesterday in submitting briefs for increased wages to the Congressional commission on reclassification of salaries in the Senate office building.

Superintendent Ernest L. Thurston told members of the commission that 100,000 teachers are imperatively needed throughout the country.

Miss Alice Deal, principal of the junior high school, who presented the brief for high school and normal teachers, asked for a minimum salary of $1,000 for teachers in group A and $1,200 for those in group B. Longevity pay is added at the rate of $200.

Miss Maude E. Alton, representing the graded school teachers, asked for a parallel with high school teachers. Increments every five years of one year's pay also were asked.

The high school teachers suggested the following means to increase the morale of the force: increases in salary, maintenance of standing in the community, increase of respect for those in authority above them and placing the position of teacher on a basis commensurate with that of those holding administrative offices in the school was urged as essential to the welfare of the system.

Superintendent Thurston announced yesterday that he would conduct a tour of the schools here to determine the feasibility of introducing the platoon system as a measure of relief for congestion.

ELECTRICITY BEAMS NEW AERIAL GUIDES

London, Nov. 22.—One of the most remarkable improvements in directing airmen at night has been announced by Godfrey Leane, of the famous Marconi Wireless Company. This invention is a new wireless searchlight, but with no light.

What actually happens is this: By means of a patent transmitter, the wireless waves are concentrated into a wireless beam like the beam of a searchlight. These beams will be placed round towns and will reflect automatically flash into the skies of the tower, guiding airmen in exactly the same way a lighthouse or lightship guides a seaman by the intermittent flashing of light.

So long, for example, as an airman is flying over London he will receive the signal "This is London." He will know his position just as well as the railway passenger does reading the name on the platform he passes through.

CITY NEWS BRIEFS.

Lloyd Darden forfeited $5 in Judge Hardison's branch of the Police Court yesterday for operating an automobile while intoxicated. Theodore Columbus, similarly charged, had his case continued.

The Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital annual ball will be held at the New Willard on Wednesday evening and will be followed by the annual ball of the Naval Relief Society on Thursday evening.

The annual meeting of the Society of Colonial Wars will be held at the New Willard on December 2. A buffet supper will be served.

Three delegations from foreign countries will be entertained at dinner at the New Willard during the week, Tuesday evening the Danish delegates will be entertained; on Wednesday the Japanese delegation, and on Thursday the Swedish delegation will be guests. Tomorrow evening the entire foreign delegation will be entertained at dinner by Sanji Muto, the Japanese employes delegate.

THIRD ROYAL FAMILY STEALS AWAY WITH GYPSY PRINCESS

Miss Margaret Purcell, Visiting Nurse, Cares For Mother and Babe in Their Tent On Bennings Race Course.

Three royal parties have visited Washington during recent weeks. Two have come and gone in regal glory; a third, humble and unheralded, has silently stolen away, and with it a "Romany princess," born in a mean tent pitched on the Bennings race track.

Nurse Summoned.
The only Washington person to be presented to this strange little princess was Miss Margaret Purcell, of the Instructive Visiting Nurse Society. Shortly after the birth of the babe, Miss Purcell was summoned by the physician whom the gypsy father called at midnight.

The new dawn was throwing its first pink ribbons of light across the waking sky when the nurse, making her way under one fence and over another, arrived at the encampment. She was led to one of the three tents by a chattering group of gypsy children. In the corner of the tent burned a small wood fire, sending spirals of smoke through the opening in the top of the tent. On a pallet of straw lay a wan, smiling gypsy mother, bedecked in beads and bright garments. By her side the new princess viewed the world she had but now been born into.

Became Family Friend.

Before the tribe left the track, Miss Purcell was its firm friend. The grimy, smiling tots and the silent, mysterious women adored her.

Then came the departure. Leaving nothing but a small heap of ashes, the wanderers packed their tents, checked their belongings, and watched the majestic outlines of the capital fade away through the windows of a Pullman, their tent in the baggage car.

man is flying over London he will receive the signal "This is London." He will know his position just as well as the railway passenger does reading the name on the platform he passes through.

Big Earnings Increase by The Farm Loan Banks

Earnings of the Federal Farm Loan banks in the six months ending November 1 were $58,600, the Farm Loan Board reports.

This was a gain of more than $50,000 over the previous half-year, and an increase of about $60,000 over profits for the corresponding six months a year ago.

Since November 1, 1918, the banks have refunded $172,569 to the government, reducing government's holding of stock to $7,955,240.

$25 WEDDING FAILS.

New York—After paying $25 membership fee in the "Temple of Love," Arthur J. Barnacle and Mrs. Ida C. Halladay were married. But Barnacle did not come up to the promised specifications of being a millionaire, so she deserted him, he says.

There is a city on the coast of Southern California which is wholly built on stilts and where no rent is paid.

"HOME" BELONGS ONLY TO ENGLISH

"Home," one of the most loved of English words, is untranslatable. No other language has been found to have a word which expresses the ideas and associations of "home." Once a Frenchman, translating the hymn, "Lead, Kindly Light," was obliged to translate the line, "The night is dark and I am far from home," as "La nuit est sombre, et je suis loin de mon foyer."—"Foyer," the French word meaning the greenhouse, of a house being the nearest approach possible to "home."

The German word "heim" seems to mean the same, but it proves to be general, upon study of it. "Heim," in company with the Spanish "casa" and the Russian "doma," lacks the precious associations of the English word, referring, as they do, merely to a building.

NUXATED IRON A DRIVING FORCE

BEHIND KEEN SUCCESSFUL MEN AND WOMEN

When you think of the successful men and women you know—people who are doing things worth while—you will find that they possess force, vim and energy—the kind that simply brim over when the blood is filled with iron. Nuxated Iron by enriching the blood and creating new red blood cells, strengthens the nerves, rebuilds the weakened tissues and helps to instill renewed force and energy into the whole system. Three million people use it annually as a tonic, strength and blood-builder.

MAKE THIS TEST
See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired; next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Numbers of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while have most astonishingly increased their strength and endurance simply by taking iron in the proper form.
